

Report for 2003RI21B: Electronic Dissemination of Institute Related Research

- unclassified:
 - N/A

Report Follows

Under this Information Transfer project work continued in disseminating past research funded by the Institute. The goal was to make available online most recent reports published by the Institute. To this effect, a document scanner was acquired and all available reports from the last 14 years were scanned, converted to a pdf format and placed online at the home page of the Rhode Island Water Resources Institute. Future work will include enhancing this site by providing a complete searching capability of the reports.